ENGINE OUT CHECKLIST

Privacy Policy

Effective date: July 1, 2026

Overview

Engine Out Checklist (“the App”) is designed to run entirely on your device. It does not collect, store, or transmit any personal information to external servers.

Information We Do Not Collect

The App does not collect or process:

- Names, email addresses, or contact information
- Location data (GPS or network-based)
- Device identifiers or advertising IDs
- Usage analytics or behavior tracking
- Crash reports sent to external services

All functionality is local to your device and does not involve remote servers or cloud services.

ENGINE OUT CHECKLIST

Third-Party Services

The App does not integrate with third-party analytics, advertising networks, or tracking SDKs. There are no in-app ads and no external data sharing.

Data Storage

The App does not create or store user profiles or personal data. Any settings or state used by the App remain on your device and are managed by the operating system.

Children's Privacy

The App does not target children and does not collect any information from users of any age.

Changes to This Privacy Policy

If the App's behavior changes in a way that affects privacy, this policy will be updated. Any future version that collects data will clearly describe what is collected and why.
